DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Group 1, claims 1-16 and 21-24 are drawn to a RAM memory having a command block configured to provide row signal having an active state in response to receiving a write command, etc..., and an array of cells wherein a selected row is opened for access in response to the active state of row signal, and wherein data is written to at least one cell in the opened row in response to at least first active state of write signal;

Group 2, claims 17-20 are drawn to a method of operating a RAM comprising the steps of "receiving write command", "providing row signal having active state...", "providing a write signal having at least first active state,...", "opening a row in response to the active state of said row signal", and "writing data to at least one cell in the opened row in response to at least first active state of write signal".

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
